The Calgary Youth Science Fair (CYSF) has been inspiring young scientists for over 50 years, and with over 800 students and several hundred judges, it is one of the largest science fairs in Canada. The Fair's success depends on dedicated and enthusiastic volunteer judges. Judging is both fun and rewarding, and many judges return year after year. However, we always have plenty of room for new judges, and we offer training and support leading up to the big day.

TRAINING SEMINARS

First time judges are strongly encouraged to attend one of the two presentations of our judges' seminar, and all judges are welcome to attend one if they would like a refresher.

- Monday April 10, 2017, NOON to 1 PM: Devon Tower, 32nd Floor, 400 3 Ave SW.
- Thursday April 20, 2017, 6 PM to 7 PM: Olympic Oval at the University of Calgary.

The seminar helps judges become more familiar with the fair, the scientific method, judging procedures and communicating with young scientists. We will thoroughly review the judging process, present examples of judging past projects, and have a question period.

Directions and maps will be posted at <http://cysf.org/judges>.

PREVIEW NIGHT

- Thursday April 20, 2017, 5 PM to 8 PM: Olympic Oval at the University of Calgary.

All judges are encouraged to drop in to preview the project backboards with no students present, and to meet with other judges in a social setting. Judges will be given the locations of the projects they will likely be judging on Friday morning. Snacks are provided.

JUDGING DAY

- Friday April 21, 2017, 7:15 AM to Noon: Olympic Oval at the University of Calgary.

A continental breakfast, juice and coffee is provided. All judges are expected to arrive by 7:15 AM, and you will be finished by about noon unless you are involved in Award Round Judging. If you have at least 4 years of experience judging at our Fair and would like to be considered for Award Round Judging on Friday afternoon, please indicate this on the Judges Online Registration. You will be contacted separately if you are selected.
